The Hague, royal city by the sea

Some destinations should be cherished forever and The Hague is one of them. The international city of peace and justice; new styles and old masters; chain stores and royal palaces; exotic cuisine and fishing port; two beach resorts and residence of the King and Queen. The Hague is the only major Dutch city located at the sea. At just 15 minutes from the historical city centre, with no less than 11 kilometres of beach. A unique combination to experience the ultimate holiday feeling here in all four seasons.

City by the sea

The Hague offers you no less than two destinations in one: city and beach. The Hague is the only city in The Netherlands by the sea. Soak up culture in the historical city centre followed by a barefoot walk across the expansive beach of Scheveningen, which is less than 15 minutes away by bike or by tram.

Home to the royal family

With its many historical monuments, working and residential palaces and royal routes, there is no denying that The Hague is home to the royal family for centuries.

Dutch top masters in The Hague

Visit the Mauritshuis and discover The Girl with the Pearl Earring from Vermeer or the Self-Portrait of Rembrandt. Get overwhelmed by the Metamorphose of Escher and see the transition of Mondriaan in his Victory Boogie Woogie at the Kunstmuseum Den Haag. This is only a small selection of a great variety of museums.

Shopping seven days a week

The Hague has a charming and historical city centre where shops are open seven days a week. It's a compact area where you find vintage, fashion and department stores and art galleries within walking distance.

Green city along the coast

Considering the population density of the Netherlands, visitors to The Hague are always amazed to find such an abundance of lush greenery throughout the city. Parks, forests, dunes and numerous green open spaces occupy over 400 hectares, which means that no less than a third of the city is green.

From fresh fish to exotic cuisine

A visit to The Hague offers a wealth of choice that will appeal to all tastes. The harbour is a great choice for having a sunset dinner with fresh fish on your plate. As 'widow of the Dutch East Indies' the city boasts a wide range of Indonesian restaurants serving elaborate 'rice tables' in typical colonial atmosphere.

Second vegan city in the Netherlands

The Hague has 27 vegan or vegan friendly restaurants, making it the second city in the Netherlands with the most restaurants for vegans. You can choose from, for example, speculoos pancakes or breakfast muffins with coconut yoghurt for foam, vegan burgers for Hortus or veggie burrito for veggies on fire.

Seaport The Hague-Scheveningen

Seaport The Hague-Scheveningen is always a hive of activity. The port is home to a great number of special restaurants and cafes. The fine view of the yacht harbour, the hustle and bustle at the fish auction, and the fresh sea breeze all contribute to making the port of Scheveningen a unique spot in the Netherlands.

With a central location on the Dutch coastline, the port of Scheveningen has direct, deep water access to the North Sea, which allows for a swift entrance to and exit from the port.

The port of Scheveningen has excellent conditions to receive smaller cruise ships, is accessible for vessels up to 165 meters in length with a draught of max. 7.5 meters, hosts all the necessary facilities and always ensures a warm welcome for cruise ships.

New attractions in The Hague

Metamorphosis of the northern boulevard Scheveningen

The whole world comes together on the boulevard of Scheveningen. Go for a walk, sunbathe, spend a well-deserved weekend or an entertaining day together. Today's north boulevard is currently transforming into an atmosphere of yesterday's fashionable Scheveningen, but with a modern twist. The hiking area is expanded and green is added, which connects the dunes with the area. You enter the beach from the 500 m² terrace via renewed wide steps made of natural stone. The Foodhall Scheveningen is new.

Legoland Discovery Centre Scheveningen

Legoland Discovery Centre Scheveningen opens spring 2021. This indoor playground, located on the boulevard of Scheveningen beach and the only one in The Netherlands, offers a Miniland of The Hague, a 4D cinema and LEGO build & play zones

Foodhall Scheveningen

Soon you will find the Foodhall Scheveningen on the north boulevard: a hall with an atmosphere of a cozy Asian market full of lights and sounds, where guests can enjoy dishes from 16 different world cuisines. The 1,200 m² food hall has three hundred seats at large and small tables. Take a seat at the bar, by the fire or near the stage where bands or a DJ regularly perform.

Kneuterdijk Palace

Kneuterdijk Palace is one of the unknown gems in the historic city centre of The Hague. The palace between Court Pond and Lange Voorhout was built in 1716 in the Louis XIV style by architect Daniel Marot for Count Johan Hendrik of Wassenaer-Obdam. In 1816 King William I purchased Kneuterdijk Palace for his son, the Prince of Orange, later King William II and his Russian wife Anna Paulowna. It is now home to the Council of State. The palace is open every first Friday of the month.

Royal waiting rooms

The restored royal waiting rooms in The Hague is special. The waiting rooms offers a unique view of the travel history of the Royal Family. These pearls were invisible to the public for a long time, but again accessible to the public after a major restoration. The Hague Hollands Spoor - During the festive opening on 5 October 1893, Princess Wilhelmina and Queen Regent Emma called the Royal Waiting Room in The Hague a 'jewel for the residence'.

Madurodam - The Flying Dutchman

The Flying Dutchman is the name of the latest attraction at the Madurodam theme park. Consisting of a fully restored Douglas DC3, the full-sized aircraft (18 metres long and 30 metres wide) will offer visitors a "flight experience" and pays tribute to the pioneering spirit of KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

Amare - the new educational and cultural complex

The new educational and cultural complex will accommodate the whole of The Hague. A house for the performing arts, creative development and (international) excellent programming. Everyone is welcome. Amare will open in 2021.

Haagse Toren

Climb the Tower of The Hague, the city's landmark for centuries! 288 steps, 92.5 meters high and the best view of The Hague. This unique hexagonal tower with a breathtaking view of the city and surroundings that you must see!

Madurodam

International Criminal Court

The foundation of The Hague as an international city of peace and justice was laid in 1899. When the world's first peace conference took place in The Hague on Tobias Asser's initiative, followed by a second in 1907. International legal cases are in the many courts and tribunals, one of them is the International Criminal Court.

Apart from the Visitor Centre, visitors ages 16 and up can attend public sessions of court hearings

Haagsche Bluf

The Haagsche Bluf is a new hotspot in the center of The Hague. Besides good food in various bars and restaurants, you can also find several shops and sleep in the new Boutique hotel The Collector.

The food halls house a wide range of high-quality food concepts and a well-known name for gourmets. Founded by entrepreneurs, embraced by locals and valued by visitors from all over the world. The newest location is right in the heart of the city center of The Hague.
